T.V.'s Cyclone Malone Deputizes Dr. Kersey At Thanksgiving Show

Deputy Sheriff Vierling Kersey promised, "to help keep law and order in these parts," in an impressive ceremony performed by Cyclone Malone at the AWS sponsored assembly last week.

The Thanksgiving assembly featured the Cyclone Malone Medicine Show, staged by Ann Davis and Dorothy Novis, co-producers of the TV puppet players.

Dr. Kersey gave an inspirational message, preceding the show, in keeping with the Thanksgiving theme.

Star performers of the Medicine Show included Cyclone's friends, Violet Lavender, Major Richmond, Chief One Lone Feather, Cozy and Abner. All the folks from Wishbone Hollow appear nightly on KNBH telecasts at 6:45 p.m.

Ann Davis introduced Ross Jones, whose drawl has made Cyclone famous, along with Art Scott, Bob Kelly and Barbara White, who manipulate and voice the opinions of the other make-believe people.

Sharing the spotlight with Dr. Kersey was Sergeant Vernon Ball of the Los Angeles Police Department, who took the Deputy Sheriff's oath also. "I've waited a long time for this," he commented as Ross Jones pinned the toy badge near his official one.

Mr. Knox Judge In Opera Contest

Richard Knox, Valley College music instructor, took part in the judging of the Los Angeles Light Opera contest held last Saturday at the Patio restaurant in Van Nuys.

The contest was held for students of music from many different schools and institutions throughout Los Angeles and is sponsored by the Lions Club. Prizes consist of sums of money to be used to further the musical education of the winning individual.

Knox has stated that the contest is a fine idea and should be encouraged whenever possible. He said that he believes it would be a good idea for Valley College students to enter future contests and that they would have a fine chance at some of the scholarships available.

Collegians Invited To Act in Plays

Any college student, enrolled in Theatre Arts or not, who is interested in acting may try out for a part in one of a series of ten one-act plays.

Bob E. Davis, drama instructor, states that the tryouts are to be held Thursday, Dec. 7, in R. 13 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Valley College To Enter Float

Valley College's Associated Students plan to enter a float in the Bethlehem Star Parade, sponsored by the Van Nuys Junior Chamber of Commerce. The parade will go down Van Nuys Blvd. Dec. 7.

Valley's float will portray Christ preaching in front of the temple. "The final plans and materials have not yet been decided," says Mike Seeger, Associated Students president.

Many floats have been entered by the various San Fernando Valley churches and organizations.

The floats are being financed by contributions from the various participants, interested persons and organizations.

Loyal Monarchs Attend Assembly

"Fight 'em Valley, fight 'em," roared the small, but enthusiastic group of Monarchs, who attended the basketball pep rally, Tuesday, in College Hall.

Art Rocha, yell king, led the assembly in several rousing cheers. Sporting their new green and gold outfits, the song leaders led the audience in the Valley Fight Song, while demonstrating their new routine.

Coach Ben McFarland, basketball mentor, while conservative in his praise of individual players, gave indications of a successful season when he said, "We've got a rough schedule, but I won't sell the team short because they look pretty good in practice."

Trips to Brazil Open to Students With Essay Skill

Picture an air view of Rio de Janeiro showing the Sugar Loaf or beautiful Copacabana Beach in all its tropical splendor.

Valley College students have an opportunity to fulfill this dream by preparing an essay of 7,000 to 10,000 words on some facet of Brazil or Brazilian-American relations.

This contest is open to any college student in Arizona, Utah or Southern California and carries a first prize of a 30-day all-expense paid tour of Brazil. Two-week all-expense paid trips to Rio de Janeiro as well as other exciting cities in Brazil are second and third prizes.

Students who wish to participate in the contest should see Angelo Villa, Spanish instructor at Valley, for further details and information.

Entries must be typewritten and double spaced and submitted to Mr. Villa by Friday, January 12, 1951.

Creative ability, style, research and knowledge of subject will be the primary consideration in judging the essays.

Judges for the contests are four American college professors, the consul for Brazil at Los Angeles and Robert L. Smith, associate publisher of the Los Angeles Daily News.

Decisions and winners will be announced February 15, 1951.

Miss Stanley plans to be back in classes next semester.

The journalism department announces the date of Valley's first High School Journalism Day, Friday, Dec. 8, from 1-4 p.m.

"This is our largest undertaking of this semester. We wish to thank the many people who are helping make it a big success," states Dellaine Hazen, editor of THE VALLEY STAR.

Hosts and guests will meet in the library at 1 p.m. where greetings and introductions of speakers will be made. Mike Seeger, Associated Students president, and Dr. Vierling Kersey, director, will extend the official welcome along with Walter Coultas, dean of instruction.

The following is an excerpt from the letter written to editor Hazen by editor-publisher Ferdinand Mendenhall when he accepted Valley's invitation to attend and take part in Journalism Day: "You and your staff and instructors are performing a foremost part in the rapid recognition and advancement of Valley College by your interesting, up-to-date publication. I trust that the students as a whole realize the planning and effort that go into the papers they read, and will recognize Journalism Day as a very important 'first' in the history of Valley College."

College Library will be closed from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Friday, Dec. 8. The guests from the high schools will assemble in College Library at 1 p.m. for a short assembly before the seminars and again at 3:30 p.m. for refreshments.

WHO'S WHOSE?

By DEAN WALTER COULTAS

(EDITOR'S NOTE -- THE VALLEY STAR has asked Walter Coultas, dean of instruction, to write an article on new services offered the Associated Students of Valley College.)

Valley College is dedicated to the principle that the most important function of the college staff and facilities is to meet the needs of the individual student. The instructors and the administration cherish the opportunity to help you. Instructors' office hours are arranged with this in mind. The English Y sections offer you help in reading comprehension, vocabulary building, study habits, time budgeting, etc. The placement service has placed many of you on part-time jobs. A study clinic is now in operation in the former library.

This article is to inform you of the latest service to be added.

Each of you is being assigned to one of ten instructor-counselors. It will be the duty of your counselors to help you with your next semester's program, to answer your questions as to graduation and university transfer requirements, and wherever possible help you if you encounter scholastic or attendance difficulties. He is your friend in court. He will know of your needs and requirements, for he will be your counselor during your complete stay at Valley.

An effort has been made to assign you by majors to the instructor most familiar with your major. This was not possible in every instance, but rest assured that your counselor will be familiar with the rules and regulations of graduation and the university transfer requirements. The counselors are Kermit Dale, Paul Mitchem, James Dodson, Angelo Villa, Harry Beck, Albert Caligiuri, Allan Keller, Ronald Brooks, Charles March and Howard Woolfan. A list of the counselors and their assigned students will be posted in each classroom.

The master schedule for the spring semester will be in the hands of your counselors by December 5. Each of you should see your counselor and pre-register prior to January 15. Classes will be closed as they are filled, so it is to your advantage to register as soon as possible.

Homecoming Handshakes

Time goes on forever. During the period of a year, progress or regression can take place, depending on many elements. A year ago this month Valley College students were called "apostles of positivism" by Director Vierling Kersey at the first Thanksgiving assembly. Valley students came through with flying colors in the Homecoming activities to prove that with unity and cooperation Valley College can do anything it decides to accomplish.

A "first" in any major project is the most difficult thing to hurdle. After a tradition has been established, the rest is comparatively easy. The Homecoming committee is to be congratulated on its impressive job, particularly that of bringing community leaders into the college activity and acquainting them with Valley.

All those who worked on the Homecoming—the committee, campus clubs, community representatives, the football team, and the many faculty members and students who participated—deserve the highest praise for their contributions to the Homecoming which has become something which every future Valley student body member will look forward to. — D. Joyce

Natl. Magazine Features Valley In School Article

Valley College will be the featured junior college in an article soon to appear in the National Education Association Magazine, according to Mrs. Velma Olson, Valley College secretarial science teacher.

The article will be on the Los Angeles City School System, and Valley College is the only junior college to be represented in the story. Pictures highlighting the story are of Lorrain Beyerham, business honor student, and Mike Seeger, Associated Students' president.

Lorrain works five hours a day at Rathbun's Department store in North Hollywood and gets credit for her work at Valley College, where she is an honor student.

Plans Released For Pavilion

According to a statement released this week by Walter Coultas, dean of instruction at Valley College, the building being erected on the southside of College Hall will be a patio type pavilion. "It will be a place for student congregation," says Mr. Coultas, "to eat or just sit and talk."

The roof will be complete in two weeks, when benches and tables will be moved in for student convenience.

The Valley College administrators here worked for over a year to get the pavilion," continued Mr. Coultas. "We feel this will be a great improvement for the college."

Four more bungalows will also be added to the campus for next semester. They are on bid now. The bungalows will be erected east of the campus, where the orchard now stands.

Clothing Needed For Shipment To War Areas

"Save the Children Federation" has asked for clothing to be shipped to children in war ravaged countries, according to Mrs. Nena S. Royer, dean of activities.

Clean, usable clothing for infants, children and adults is needed by the Federation.

The drive will be conducted from Dec. 11 to Dec. 13, and all clothing should be delivered to Mrs. Royer's office.

Valley College Plans Reviewed By Dr. Kersey

By DICK MCGOWAN

In an interview with this reporter, Director Vierling Kersey told of two of the most significant developments ahead for Valley College. Perhaps, the most important of these is the organization and anticipation of Valley's first senior class. Preparation for this big initial event will be started in a few weeks. Valley's first commencement exercises will be held sometime in June, 1951. At present, the exact number of graduates is not available, but the approximate number is around 300.

Another note of interest, is the fact that 12 of the residences on the newly acquired 150 acre site upon which the permanent campus will be built, are now being made available for College use. A list of these residences, with their facilities are now being prepared by the engineering department of the college. This list will offer the organizations and groups at the College campus an opportunity to choose a home, which they can use till the permanent campus is ready.

In the Mood

By DICK MCGOWAN

Frank DeVol is creating such a fuss at the Palladium that I'll have to break a promise I made to myself and go see him. If it weren't for DeVol and his wonderful crew, I wouldn't even consider it. The Palladium has been getting away with murder the last few years, and it's about time they started giving the public worthwhile entertainment.

Anyway it's nice to know that a swell guy like DeVol is really packing the place. Helen O'Connell, making her first appearance since she retired, sounds better than ever according to reports.

If you want to see a motion picture, that is in my estimation tops in good clean entertainment, don't miss "THE WEST POINT STORY." This show is entertaining from start to finish and features some of the finest song and dance scenes shown in many a moon. Gordon MacRae, Doris Day and Gene Nelson team up, again, this time with Jimmy Cagney and Virginia Mayo. Cagney has the lead in his first musical comedy since "Yankee Doodle," and he is at his best. MacRae and Day sound wonderful, and Gene Nelson is proving he is the best hooper to hit town in years. But wait till you see Virginia Mayo. This gal steals the show, much to everyone's surprise. Be sure to see it if you can.

LATE FLASH: Dick Degnon still likes "THE THING."

Clubs To Sell Tickets

Christmas Dance tickets are available to all club presidents, who are interested in their clubs selling them.

Dick Yamashita, president of the IOC, said, "The club selling the largest number of tickets, providing the number sold reaches two hundred, will receive a cash prize of ten dollars."

"This is to be the big social function of this semester," said Mike Seeger, AS president. We would like to have everyone support it."

The Valley Forge

By BILL TUNNELL

Dame Disgrace has been planted squarely on the doorsteps of Valley College. The once gay and festive campus has turned into a mournful graveyard of wrecked lives and suicides. The once high regard held out to King College students has turned into loathing and ridicule by the townspeople. Nothin' but a bunch of serfs and peasants.

We had plenty of warning. We knew it was to happen, but we blew our chance at fame and fortune; and now we shall always be held up as example of complete and total failure, for we weren't wearing our CYCLONE MALONE BADGES at the assembly.

Only one of our number can hold his head high and walk down the streets in the bright sunlight. No cowering down alleys after dark for him. He doesn't take part in the furtively whispering groups that gather for self-protection from the hooded vigilantes of aroused citizens, for DICK DEGNON WAS WEARING HIS BADGE. Nice going, Dick.

SUPPORT???

We will have to watch carefully at these basketball rallies from now on, so as not to overcrowd College Hall. We could hardly get the two hundred that came, in. Look, kids, we really supported the football team. Now, let's put our support behind the basketball team. The next game is tomorrow against Glendale. Let's pack the place.

COMMUNIQUE FROM PRISMON

Have just received news from Mr. Prismon (twenty minutes before deadline) that there are a limited number of Sigma Tau Sigma pins for sale. Bargain day. They're only a little over $2.50.

Six Seahawk Scores Sink Valley; Harbor Ruins First Homecoming

Three scores in the first half never allowed Valley to come within striking distance as the Harbor JC Seahawks rolled over the Monarchs 42-12 in the mud last Saturday, November 18, on the Van Nuys High School turf.

Valley Fights Back

The Valleyites started playing football in the second half and pushed over two touchdowns and had driven for another, but Harbor had built up an impenetrable wall of scores as time ran out on the Gold and Green grid-ers.

Harbor took to the air in the first half as the combination of Fred Ihde to Kenny Fontes scored one set of six points, and Joe Lingrey to Drew Dowley paid off twice for scores.

Dowley Scores Twice

After Harbor had tallied once more from Lingrey to Dowley on a 67 yard pass play, the Monarchs settled down and held the Harbor offense. A razzle-dazzle run by the Seahawks' Jack Allen netted the Seasiders six more, but the Monarchs drew the line there.

Glaser to Ambord

The Gilmore Gridders fought back as Vaughan Glaser flipped a pass to Walt Ambord, who sprinted to the checkered zone on an 82 yard pass play. A strong running attack with Dick Dean, Tony Albert, Bob Clarke and Ambord, grinding off yardage, placed the Monarchs on the Harbor 12, where another Glaser to Ambord aerial added another score to the Valleyites' column. These quick strikes pulled Valley up to 35-12.

The Van Nuys boys again started goalward when hopes were blotted out as a Valley pass was plucked from the air and a Seahawk defender sailed over into the end zone winding up the scoring.

HARBOR BEATS VALLEY AGAIN, AS GIRLS LOSE

Valley College's girls' basketball team, accompanied by Miss Jeanne Pons, traveled to Harbor Junior College last Tuesday and lost both games.

Captained by Evelyn Hansen, the first team lost by a score of 42-28. The other team, captained by Diane Everts, lost by 42-13.

Players were Diane Everts, Margaret Knappe, Evelyn Hansen, Frances Morton, Barbara McDaniel, Arlene Mathis, Mary Lou

Browne Paces Pickers

Brad Browne, although coming up with a miserable 13-7 posting for the STAR issue of November 18, is sporting a lead in points, as Pigskin Prognostication goes into its final week.

Angelo Villa, Spanish prof., came up with a 16 and 4, marking the second straight time a faculty picker has shown the way. Dick Degnon of the sports staff had a 14-6, and second place Roger Murphy posted a 15-5, while student crystal ball gazer Jack Jevne had a 13 and 7.

Murphy leads the pickers in games won with 114 but isn't so fortunate in the points he gives.

By BRAD BROWNE

Chuck Schreiber, a former Valleyite now attending College of the Pacific, was home for Thanksgiving last week and informed me he was playing basketball on the college team, Chuck is 12th man at the moment, but as soon as a sprained ankle gets back to full strength he'll move up fast. He didn't play basketball here last year, but did pitch on the baseball team.

Howdy, Folks

Just before he left to go back up to the old grind, he told me to tell all his friends hello for him. So to all his friends, and they were many, a great big hello.

Basketball

For my money Ralph Clements looks like he'll be the spark of the basketball team. Clements plays forward and is a dead-eye shot.

There is a man on the basketball team who has an amazing record and he is Herb Hain. Herb never played any high school basketball, but has played a lot on the outside.

20 Point Average

He played in the local YMCA leagues for a couple of years and averaged close to 20 points a game. Last fall he played in a municipal league in Burbank and averaged around the 20 point mark again. In one game he really got hot and racked up 32 points.

He was even a better shot on free throws. He sank 18 in a row before he missed one and ended the year with something like 30 out of 35 free throws made.

Warriors Top East LA 14-7 For MC Crown

With quarterback Paul Held passing to one touchdown and running over for another, El Camino Jaysee upset East Los Angeles Junior College 14-7 on Thanksgiving Day for the Metropolitan Conference Championship.

The win left the Warriors with a 5 and 0 record in the loop, and the defeat gave the Huskies a 4 to 1 posting for the campaign.

The game was played on the El Camino turf and the victors capitalized on a Husky fumble and an intercepted pass for their scores. Lewis Williams of East LA scampered 12 yards for the losers' lone tally after a roughing the passer penalty set up the play.

A hard charging El Camino line and some smooth signal calling on the part of quarterback

Meyers, Peggy Wiley, June Loomis, Shirley Jones, Eleanor Mattina, Marilyn Crater, Eleanor Roper and Elinor Penry.

Valley Takes Pierce Jaysee In First Tilt

Making their first attempt at a winning one, Valley College downed a scrappy Pierce Jaysee basketball five, 54-47, last Tuesday night at Van Nuys High.

The game, the first for the Monarch cagers on their 26 game slate, was never in doubt as the Valley aggregation led all the way and were never headed.

Coach Ben McFarland cleared the bench as did Brahma head man Joe Wilmore.

Ralph Clements, from whom much was expected, lived up to advance notices as he bucketed 19 points to grab scoring honors. Sub forward Bob Thomas paced the loser's attack with 12 markers.

Valley, after a somewhat jittery start, jumped off to an early 7-0 lead before the visitors could dent the scoring column. The Monarchs led at the intermission 29-22.

McFarland substituted freely during the final 20 minutes, using two teams. Forwards Frank Lowry and Ralph Clements, center Howard Cole, and guards Bill Wells and Tom Crane comprised the number one quintet. The second five had Herb Hain and George "Buckets" Carr at forwards; Bob Hansen, center; and Tom Bohn, Bill Weigman and Dave Summers at the guard slots.

Pierce closed the gap to 41-39 late in the final period, but McFarland immediately sent in the top five and Valley ran away with the encounter.

The game was marked by rough play, but the brand of ball exhibited was creditable to all viewers.

Tom Crane, Bill Wells and Howard Cole were hawks on defense for Valley besides coming into the scoring limelight. Scoring subs George Carr and Bob Hansen played good ball also as did starting forward Frank Lowry.

Valley: Clements (19), F, Edwards (4), Lowry (5), F, Consoli (4), Cole (7), C, H. Anderson (6), Wells (6), C, B. Anderson (6), Crane (6), G, Hayes (3).
Halftime score: Valley 29, Pierce 22.
Scoring subs—Valley: Carr (6), Hansen (5), Pierce: Thomas (12), Corp (6), Friar (5), Moran (4), Rowlin (5), Underwood (2).

FREE PROGRAM

All students who would like a souvenir of Valley College's first annual homecoming football program may obtain a free copy upon request in R. 12. Due to the heavy down-pour at last week's game between Harbor Jaysee and Valley, there were a considerable number of copies left.

Held spelled the Huskies' doom.

Final conference standings:

Monarch Cagers Meet Glendale CC Tomorrow

Coach Ben McFarland will pit his varsity cagers against the Glendale Vaquero hoop squad tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Van Nuys High. A jayvee game will precede the varsity tilt at 6:30 between the two schools.

Glendale Good

Glendale will bring an aggregation that has knocked off El Camino Jaysee in a practice game. The Vaqueros usually have a formidable cage team. Last year they trounced Valley twice in practice tilts.

McFarland Set

McFarland is pretty well set on his squad and is using Ralph Clements at one forward post and Herb Hain, Frank Lowry and George Carr at the other. Howie Cole appears to have the starting center slot nailed down but is being pushed in the position by letterman Bob Hansen and Dave Summers, who reported only last week from the football team. Summers may play both guard and center.

Lettermen Bill Wells and Bill Weigman are battling for starting guard berths but have their hands full with able competition from Tom Crane and Tom Bohn.

Austin Ineligible

Returning letterman Ed Austin won't be eligible until the spring term since he played a semester at East Los Angeles Jaysee, thereby losing a semester of eligibility. Austin will do his court cavorting on Coach Charlie Mann's jayvee five until February.

Coach McFarland announced Monday that he was none too sure about his starting five but would probably stick to the same quintet that jumped center in the Pierce game on Tuesday. That means Ralph Clements and Frank Lowry at the forward slots; Howie Cole at the center spot; and letterman Jim Quick and Bill Wells at the guard berths.

These boys will be backed by Tom Bohn, Dave Summers, Bob Hansen, George Carr, Bill Weigman, Herb Hain, Tom Crane.

Terry Morse, Jerry Westfall, and letterman Ed Austin should pace Coach Mann's jayvees in the preliminary.

Basketball Schedule

December 15 — Valley at Fresno Jaysee.

December 16—Valley at Taft Jaysee.

Showboat Victorious; Gala Festivities End

Sigma Alpha Phi, Valley College's music club, waltzed away with top honors at Valley's first Homecoming parade last Friday, Nov. 17.

A large showboat was the club's contribution to Homecoming activities. Resembling a Mississippi riverboat during the days of old, the showboat won the only trophy presented. The frame of the float, which was built on a truck, was in three tiers and colored in red, white and blue crepe paper. Captained by Dick Eaton, the Sigma Alpha Phi members were Don Ingle, Hal Brown, Larry Grismer, Al Ghezzi, Jack Smith, Paul Treitch, Charlene Shaw, Jerry Grisham, John Neel, Gene Phillips and Dick McGowan. Don Miller drove the truck.

Second place was awarded to the Spanish Club. At the back of the float was an arbor. Situated in the middle and in front of the arbor was a large vase and in front of the vase a bench. Seated in the arbor and on the bench were Dave O'Brien, Jim Hamra, Gertrude Troiano and Madeleine Spillane.

Third place went to the "Y" Club. The float consisted of a large backdrop of flowers spelling out "Y." The whole float tapered down to the front where a large birthday cake stood, celebrating the Monarchs' first anniversary. Seated against the backdrop was a lion dressed in a diaper. Cavorting in the lion's suit was the "Y" president, Bill Branum.

Other floats and club presidents are: French Club, president Ed Scharff; Coronets and Knights, Nancy Ohms and Bill Wells; Lettermen Club, Ed Austin; Ski-Ice Skating Club, Jack Jevne and Jenny Haverkamp; Psychology Club, Robert Munsey; Spanish Club, Jim Hamra; Alpha Pi Epsilon and Alpha Tau Epsilon, Flora Wells and Helen Davis; Sigma Alpha Phi, Don Ingle; "Y" Club, Bill Branum.

Homecoming activities were climaxed Saturday, Nov. 18 with a football dance in College Hall. A regal throne and platform served the queen and her court. During the intermission, Director Vierling Kersey crowned Rae Vackar queen and kissed her on the cheek.

Queen Vackar's first official act during her reign was to present the trophy for the first place float to Dick McGowan, Sigma Alpha Phi vice-president.

Thompson Visits Friends at Valley

Kenny Thompson, former Valley College student, visited the campus last Friday and showed evidence of a little wistfulness as he viewed his peaceful surroundings.

Thompson, now studying at Los Angeles State College, said that the atmosphere here at Valley was friendlier than at State, and added that State professors were a little harder to reach because of their larger classes.

While at Valley, he was president of Sigma Tau Sigma, honorary Social Science Fraternity, and was prominent in many other college activities besides being an "A" student.

Recently added to the Thompson family was a baby boy about whom Kenny talks with untiring

Fashion Flicker

By SANDEE SLAKOFF
Fashion Editor

Here comes the winter season . . . fresh and buoyant with at least a dozen versions of colorful fashion ideas to turn any feminine head. Stepping ahead in the path of holiday glitter and proving to be the bright spot of a collegian's wardrobe is the velvet coatdress, the color of orange marmalade, that can be worn as separates; or one slightly elegant full coat—the tailor's suit in dark gray flannel with detachable lapels and cuffs of red wool to flip or switch at your choosing; a soft suede duffel bag, shaped like a beehive and roomy enough for notebooks plus; and at the end of the rainbow, a twice-buckled Scotch shoe in plaid or solid wool with contrasting leather laces and heels.

FIRST CHOICE

BEV ZANOLINE and NANCY OHMS vie for the fashion-orchid of the week. Bev wins praise for her green and rust colored separates in wool jersey and corduroy; while Nancy deserves "A" for appeal in her rose and white checked wool bolero suit. Both girls add accessories and really

Miss Clark Back

Miss Dorothy Clark, secretary to Director Vierling Kersey, spent an enjoyable vacation traveling through Northern California and Nevada during the week of Nov. 13-20.

The high spots of the trip were: the view from "Top of the Mark" in San Francisco; newly fallen snow on Carson City-Bishop back roads; Feather River Canyon; and Paradise, Apple County of California.

"Twenty-five years have elapsed since I was last on these much changed roads," commented Miss Clark. "I enjoyed the trip tremendously, but it was good to get back to Valley and work."

look original in their typically collegiate outfits.

BRIGHT BELLES

Here are some conversational sparklers that should light a glow in your wardrobe to rival the brightness of the X-mas holly . . . a velvet sunflower to dangle at the ends of a dark waist-sash . . . a two toned, two textured cardigan to wear on either side for a "double header" with wool skirts or slacks . . . wonderful new campus carry-alls—shopping bags in screaming bold plaid, or school colors, with room enough for books and all added incidentals.
